INDUSTRIAL WORK IN SUMMER SCHOOL

Several Hundred Children to Be Enrolled at Eckington Presbyterian Church.

Summer school in a church, where varied forms of industrial work will be taught, will be tried out in Eckington Presbyterian Church this summer.

From 9 to 12 in the morning., beginning July 6, several hundred children will be enrolled. The project is being planned by the missionary society, of which Mrs. John Marshall is president. which Mrs. John Marshall is president. A special instructor, Mrs. Grace Garee, has been engaged from Baltimore to conduct normal classes weekly for the fifteen volunteer workers in the school. Chair caning, carpentry, practical sewing, calisthenics, hammock making, iron work, and other forms of industrial work will be taught. The tuition fee will be a penny a day and pupils will be given the pieces they make.

The Rev. H. E. Brundage, the pastor, explained that the purpose was not only instruction but to keep the children off the streets in the summer and away from harmful associations.

dren off the streets in the summer and away from harmful associations.

The school will open each morning with fifteen minutes of Bible study. After the industrial classes all pupils will join in a song service, in which flag salutes and patriotic exercises will be made a special feature.

The idea grew out of a similar school already conducted once a week at the church by Mrs. H. P. Viles. At that class the attendance is sixty, and these pupils are expected to be a nucleus for the summer school. A paid worker will be engaged to direct the efforts of the fifteen volunteer workers.

Girl Baptized 21 Times,

KINGSTON, N. C., June 12.—Ruth Marshburn, a very pretty child, be-tween eleven and twelve years of age, Marshourn, a very pretty child, between eleven and twelve years of age, came here a few days ago from her home, about five miles on the north side of Snow Hill, on a most remarkable mission. The little girl had a 'vision,' she declared, and was kept awake all night by the presence of the spirit of her father, who died some weeks ago. The spirit admonished her to be baptized twenty-one times in order to be cured of a physical allment which had afflicted her for years. She plainly saw the departed parent in heaven, she said, and was with him for hours. By the manifold baptism, she was informed, she would be relieved of her affliction on her twelfth birthday. The Rev. Jenkins, a holiness minister, in the presence of a small party immersed the little girl twenty-one times in the water of Neuse river at Parrott's bridge. Dr. James Shera Montgomery will conduct Flas day services tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock and speak on "Our Flag and the Present Crisis."

SELF OUT OF JOB

But Purist in Art and Literature May Not Be Allowed to Quit Postoffice.

Anthony Comstock, purist in art and literature, is wishing himself out of a perfectly good Government job that he wished himself into forty years ago. According to Mr. Comstock, as quoted According to Mr. Comstock, as quoted in New York newspapers, he is to be let out as a United States postal inspector July 1 in the routine reorganization of the New York office.

Quoting him further verbatim, he does not care, even though he has fought with a whole hearted singleness of purpose to ang on for forty years.

According to John C. Koons, chief inspector of the Postoffice Department, Mr. Comstock is not to be fired, let out, dismissed, or otherwise severed from his official connection. Further, quoting Mr. Koons, "he has no authority and set." Koons, "he has no authority, and, so far as known, no reason for making the statements attributed to him"

Koons Should Know. Therefore, as Mr. Koons is the boss, and has never been known to allow any equivocation of that fact in any Government department or division to which he has given his efforts, it seems that the redoubtable Anthong, censor ne plus ultra, and publicity getter par excellence, may not be as successful wishing himself out, as he was in wishing himself in.

News of the official decapitation of Comstock is variously reported as having leaked from the Postoffice Department wireless. Evidently some one got the purport of the message mixed in the decoding.

The name of Comstock is not to be deleted from the official list of postal inspectors at New York; of this fact Mr. Koons is positive. Such action has not been considered, he said. Mr. Koons does not confirm the statement that the Postoffica Department has become convinced that misdirected zeal has made him undesirable as an official.

will not be on the new list.

"I don't care.

"I have held the appointment for more than forty years. Most of that time I had no salary. Finally Poetmaster Cortelyou forced a salary upon me. If I wanted to fight they could not remove me except by preferring charges, for I am under the civil service. But I do not care. I am glad to be relieved of the work. I have more to do than I can do. I'm glad to be getting out."

Neutral Must Move for Peace, Says Jane Addams

PARIS, June 12 -Miss Jane Addams fHull House, Chicago, who has ar rived in Paris, says that she gathered from conversations with statesmen in England, Germany, Austria, and Italy that it would be most difficult to influence any of the belligerents for peace on account of the fear that the sugges tion might be taken as a sign of mili-tary weakness. All felt that the suggestion must come from a neutral nation, preferably from the United States.

Miss Addams regards the question of Belgium as the greatest difficulty to be solved. After seeing the French statesmen, she will go to Havre to talk with members of the Belgian government, and then will return to New York by way of London. In spite of the fact that the American ambassadors the fact that the American ambassadors have recommended that she take the southern route home, she declared that she was not afraid to risk the north Atlantic crossing.
